

Old Seoul

<Old Seoul of Korea>

<Itinerary>

- 1.) Gyeongbokgung Palace with changing guard ceremony
- 2.) Bukchon Hanok Village
- 3.) Insadong alley
- 4.) Gilsangsa Buddhist Temple
- 5.) Gwangjang Traditional Market
- 6.) Naksan park with the city wall

Gyeongbokgung Palace

Introduction

Gyeongbokgung Palace is the main place among 5 palaces in Seoul, it is a must-visit sight especially if it is the first time to visit Korea.

Even though main building were restored and being restored now, it is still recommended because it is right in the center of old Seoul and they offer Changing guard ceremony at 10 am and 2 pm, twice a day.

Bukchon Hanok Village

Introduction

The name Bukchon, which literally translates to "northern village," came about as the neighborhood lies north of two significant Seoul landmarks, Cheonggyecheon Stream and Jongno. Today, many of these Hanoks operate as cultural centers, guesthouses, restaurants and tea houses, providing visitors with an opportunity to experience, learn and immerse themselves in traditional Korean culture.

Insadong alley

Introduction

Insadong alley was the place for the markets, it started as a furniture market, then it became famous for the art galleries after the Korea war, many people used to come here to see and buy the arts and antiques, now you can find the best Korean traditional products here such as brushes, papers, fans, masks and potteries. Insadong is also famous for having many traditional Korean restaurants and tea houses, that's right, you can only find that many tea houses only in Insadong in Korea

Gilsangsa Buddhist Temple

Introduction

Buddhist temple located inside the nature in Seoul and it is not just a regular temple, it has a love story of a couple separated due to the division of Korea and it served as a fancy restaurants for those politicians until 70s and it became charming Buddhist temple that offers the tranquil environment of the city to its citizens.

Gwangjang Traditional Market

Introduction

Gwangjang Market was the first permanent market in Korea and continues to thrive as a popular tourist destination today.

Naksan park with the city wall

Introduction

Naksan park was made when city decided to restore the eastern part of city wall, Seoul is surrounded by 4 mountains in each directions and the east one is the lowest at about 100 meter, so it is becoming popular among many people who would like to enjoy the city view especially at night.