

Boseong / Suncheon

<Beautiful Scenery and Temple>

<Itinerary>

- Boseong Green Tea Farm
- Songgwangsa Temple
- Naganeupseong Folk Village
- Suncheonman Bay Wetland Reserve

Boseong Green Tea Farm

Introduction

Boseong has the right conditions for growing green tea. Spanning over a large scale of land filled with green tea, the tea plantation offers a relaxing ambience as well as the refreshing taste and scent of green tea.

Songgwangsa Temple

Introduction

The road to the temple is covered by beautiful tall trees. If you cross the valley from the road, a bridge called Cheongryanggak appears. On the bridge is a pavilion, where you can have a rest. Inside the temple, you can see the Daeungbojeon, the main building. This building has a roof shaped to look like it has two roofs. To one side of the main building is Jijangjeon Shrine, where there is a statue of Buddha, and Seungbojeon Shrine, which tells the world that this is a seungbo temple.

Naganeupseong Folk Village

Introduction

Naganeupseong Folk Village contains a town castle. Within the east, south and west of the castle, about 100 families still reside, and the castle area has been very well preserved. You can observe the daily dwellings indigenous to the south provincial area such as the kitchen area, the clay rooms, and Korean-style verandas. There are also 9 houses designated as important cultural resources, and numerous straw-roof houses as well.

Suncheonman Bay Wetland Reserve

Introduction

The fields in Suncheonman Bay is thickly covered with reeds taller than a full-grown man. It is the biggest colony of reeds in Korea. The image of the entire field swaying in the wind is as dazzling as waves on the sea.